Dear Parents/ Carers and children,

We hope you all had a lovely Easter, all be it, very different from usual!

We've been back in school from Monday, looking after those children whose parents are key workers and some of our other children. We must say, it's been very strange to start the summer term without you all! We are missing you all very much, and we know the children are missing us too (some of you more secretly than others! 😊)

We just wanted to give you a few updates:

Home Learning:

Our teachers have worked ever so hard on providing home learning ideas for the children, there are now new ideas on the school website (<https://www.moorlandsprimary.com/>) so please do check it out! These ideas are there to support you and help with giving the days some structure.

Please do not worry if you are not completing all of the home learning suggested, we realise that home schooling is tough, and for many of you, not achievable in the form you thought it would be. If you could keep reading with your children and keep their number skills (number bonds/ multiplication tables) ticking over, we'd really appreciate it.

As always, we believe the children's mental health and well-being is the most important thing to focus on during these times, so if it's not working out for you, don't worry!

We have had a number of enquiries about printing off the activities from the website and that some of you have run out of exercise book space! We have ordered more books, and will be in touch next week to let you know when you can collect a new book if required. The activities on the website are designed not to be printed off, but to be looked at on screen and completed on paper/ in books.

Phone calls home:

Starting this week, and over the next few weeks, the teachers will be contacting you to speak to the children. This will be a phone call to see how they are, how they are coping, what they are enjoying and to give help and guidance on any work, if needed.

In the meantime, it would be great if you could let your class teacher know you are OK by emailing them on the class email addresses, these are your child's year group@moorlandsprimary.net e.g. year2@moorlandsprimary.net

If you could send your child's class teacher a weekly email update, even if it's just a thumbs up emoji, that would be wonderful and help the teachers know you are safe and well.
